

Workshop in Research & Publication
Biodiversity, Ecosystem & Climate Change
16th – 30st March 2021 (Online Mode)

Last Date for Registration: 15th March 2021

BACKGROUND NOTE

Climate is an important environmental influence on ecosystem, ecosystem services and biodiversity. Climate change not only affects ecosystems and species directly, it also interacts with other man made stresses such as innovation, development and landscape changes. Climate change affects the living world, including people, through changes in ecosystems, biodiversity, and ecosystem services. Impacts of climate change on ecosystems reduce the ability to improve water quality and regulate water flows. Rapid changes to ecosystems may cause displacement or loss of many species. Timing of critical biological events is shifting, affecting species and habitats. Ecosystem perturbations driven by climate change have direct human impacts, including reduced water supply and quality, the loss of iconic species and landscapes, distorted rhythms of nature, and the potential for extreme events to overwhelm the regulating services of ecosystems.

Thus, to cultivate the practice of research among students, research scholars and fresh academicians this workshop in research and publication is proposed on the theme - 'Biodiversity, Ecosystem and Climate Change'. It is attempted to facilitate an integrated look at the question of how climate change is affecting biodiversity, ecosystem and ecosystem services and its implications on human and all other living beings. The outcomes of this initiative are expected to bring out a wide range of solutions for sustainable conservative goals and retain the charm of our planet and the environment.

Research articles and case studies are proposed to be developed on the below sub-themes:

- The global carbon cycle
- Conservation of biodiversity
- Clean and green technologies
- Forest rehabilitation and restoration
- Land use change, trends and its impact
- Pressures on environment and climate
- Climate change and its impact on health
- Risk assessment of the use of chemicals
- Wetlands and riparian ecosystem management
- Climate change and its implications on biodiversity
- Conservative and adaptive strategies to conserve the planet
- Conservation & sustainable management for environmental health
- Effective environmental health analysis techniques

AND

Any other sub-theme related to biodiversity, ecosystem, ecosystem services & climate change

IDENTIFIED JOURNALS ENCOURAGING 'YOUNG ASPIRING AUTHORS'

International Journal of Engineering Research and Management (IJERM)
International Journal of Engineering Applied Sciences and Technology (IJEAST)

Participant Profile

Graduate and post-graduate students, research scholars and academicians who have not published any research article/ case studies so far are invited to participate. Anyhow, others may also participate. Participants shall be from any branch of study or department; every branch is connected to this theme and every individual is responsible to retain the charm of our environment. Preparatory guidance will be provided to all participants.

Participation Procedure

Participants interested in publishing a research articles or case studies are required to submit the registration form enclosed herewith along with the subsidized registration fee as per the chosen journal. Guidance for preparation of abstracts will be provided along with model abstracts for easy understanding. After submission of the abstract, participants will be guided to prepare the full manuscript as per journal requirement. Subsequently, all the manuscripts will be tabled for editorial review and processed for its publication in the identified journals.

Our Guidance

Our experts from the academia, industry and editorial will provide detailed instructional guidance through email, with individual attention to participants. Further clarifications will be attended to through phone call as well. And, we will ensure that every participant will publish one research article/ case study.

Certification

All the participants will receive a 'Certificate of Participation' in the research workshop of 15 days. Authors of TEN most contributing research outcomes at National Level will receive a 'Certificate of Excellence' and honored in our upcoming program. And, all manuscripts will be published in the chosen journal – a great achievement of every participant.

Registration Fee

Training & guidance is FREE. Only Article Processing Charges is to be paid for the journal:
Publication in IJERM : INR 1,400/-
Publication in IJEAST : INR 1,900/-

Registration forms are to be sent to:
